

TARIFF PICTURES.

Ohio farmers who got cents a pound for their wool last year are getting 13 cents for it now. The reason is plainly given in the Democratic papers. They say that wool is now "on a free-trade basis." How do the farmers to whom they promised higher prices for wool as the result of Democratic victory like this "object lesson?"

ANOTHER CHICAGO CASE.

Washington Post.—The Chicago platform may be forced to bring action against the Democratic party for breach of promise.

THE DEMOCRACY AND FREE SILVER.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—It is the time for Democratic Congressmen to be true to their constituents. There is not a district West of the Alleghenies in which the Democrats are not overwhelmingly opposed to unconditional repeal of the Sherman Law, and the Democratic Congressman from that territory who votes with the gold bug will be false to the people who elected him.

THE SENATE IS NOT REPRESENTATIVE.
Philadelphia Ledger.—That evils result from making pocket boroughs for partisan advantage is shown in the present condition of the Senate. Sixteen Senators represent silver states with about 2,000,000 population, and outvote some of the older states with 30,000,000 population, and it is this unrepresentative Senate that is the chief difficulty in the passage of sound financial measures.

THE TARIFF THE QUESTION.
Milwaukee Sentinel.—The Democrats show a desire to make state issues prominent, but the tariff question will be the principal question in the canvass. The people have now had some experience of the effects upon business of a menace of a tariff for revenue only, and a good many of them are likely to feel disinclined to go on and experience the reality of opening the doors to the free competition of European cheap labor with American industries in our markets.

TARIFF REFORM PARADES.
New York Press.—A Democratic newspaper says: Arrangements are being made for a demonstration to which New York is unaccustomed—a parade of the unemployed. It will probably take place next week, and will be a melancholy sequel to the magnificent displays illustrating progress and wealth which have glittered along the streets of the metropolis on recent occasions of National remembrance, and as much a tribute to Labor's yearly celebration, which will fall this year on September 4th.

It is true that a parade of the unemployed of New York City, declared in the same article to number not less than 100,000, will form a melancholy sequel to certain processions of last autumn, which were headed by banners bearing such inscriptions as "Cleveland and Tariff Reform." The parade of the unemployed will be the direct, conscious and avowed other parades, and of the fraudulent promises which were the basis of the Democratic campaign. The Democracy deceived the workman into believing that a blow could be struck against the industries without his own interests being injured, that the fabric of Republican Protection could be overthrown without the wage earner being disturbed by the catastrophe, that the employer could be icken down and the employee escape all.

The time has come when employers ally have had to take into consideration the prospect or certainty of a trade, in the guise of "tariff reform," and as goods are usually manufactured months ahead of consumption, expected Free-trade legislation has already produced widespread apprehension, depression and privation. Many factories have closed their gates, and wages have been reduced in other establishments to meet the anticipated change. Tens of thousands are out of employment, and what promised, a year ago, to be a season of exceptional prosperity, has become a period remarkable for calamity and distress.

The day before election The Press said: "A vote for Grover Cleveland to-morrow is a vote to shut up hundreds of mills and factories on this side of the Atlantic and open them on the other side of the Atlantic. It is a vote to beggar your neighbor if it does not immediately reduce your own earnings. It is a vote to fill our shop windows full of foreign merchandise, and to send our own earners into the street to look for food to gaze on the 'cheap goods' which they are unable to buy. It is a vote to disrupt and disturb the business of the United States from Maine to California."

This warning has already been painfully verified. A parade of the unemployed of New York, nearly all of whom were earning good wages one year ago, will be a practical illustration of the value of Republican Protection as compared with Democratic Free-trade. The Democratic platform is a hungry stomach to convince the American wage earner of the fallacy of Free-trade; for hunger is a condition, not a theory.

Condition of Small Crops Throughout Kentucky to Date.

The general prospect at the close of the past week was considerably better than at any other time during the past month. While the average temperature was normal, the night was a very cool one for this season of the year, and the effects of the drought were thus somewhat mitigated.

CLEVELAND, MAD.
He Thinks the Republicans Were Mis- treated-Their Votes Are Needed to Repeal the Silver Law.
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.-The president is not entirely satisfied with the manner in which Secretary Carlisle conducted the negotiations with the democracy of the house. Mr. Cleveland felt that there ought to be some sort of consultation, some recognition of the republicans, especially in view of the fact that republican votes would be needed to secure the repeal of the silver law, and more particularly because, as he had intimated, he was not sure the subject was one which was beyond partisanship.
When the president discovered that the republicans might have been so treated as to make it fair to it to suppose that the democracy did not care to have it participate in the discussion, in fact was disposed to ignore the minority altogether, Mr. Cleveland was angry. He had himself said two or three times to congressmen who called to see him about offices that the man who thought about partisan politics or about offices at a time like this almost deserved to be shot. He said to one congressman: "I will not like a single paper nor listen to a single application until this matter is settled, and I am amazed that anybody should think of coming to me upon these trifling matters when this nightmare is hanging over us."

PASSED THE SENATE.
A BILL Appropriating $300,000 for the erection of a hall of record building.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.-The senate yesterday after a short discussion passed the bill introduced by Senator Vest and provided for the erection of a new hall of records in this city to cost $300,000. The bill provides for the purchase of a site and the erection thereon of a brick and metal record building to be used for the safe keeping of such records of such executive legislative departments for constant reference. The sentiment in favor of relieving the department buildings of the mass of innocuous documents now encumbering them was very strong, and during the discussion of the requirement references were made to the recent Ford's theater horror, showing that disaster had left a strong impression on national legislators who at times were responsible.

No Money to Move the Cotton Crop.
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 17.-From one end of the cotton belt to the other the question of securing enough currency to move the crop this year is bothering the growers. The monetary situation is of paramount importance and is a burning question. In the southern sections of the belt, the crop is now ready to move. Delay will be ruinous to the growers and fatal to the operatives. Something must be done at once. In some of the sections the banks are coming to the rescue and are issuing clearing-house certificates to supplement the currency on hand.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE!
The Cause and its Lesson.
Why did he commit suicide? Oh! for the same reason that thousands of others are on the verge of the same sin, or in immediate danger of insanity, paralysis, idiocy, or some other equally unfortunate result of a nervous affliction. He knew he was afflicted with a nervous disorder, but was careless, apparently indifferent to the outcome; or he may have lessened his chances for recovery by treating with physicians who had little or no knowledge of such affections; or by deluging himself with worthless so-called remedies. His case was a sad one, but no worse than that of any other nervous sufferer, who has nervous or sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, irritability, melancholy, falling memory, bad flashes, fainting, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, sexual debility, epilepsy, etc. The same or similar consequences are likely to result to any one who has any of these advance symptoms of an awful end. Do not hesitate in getting rid of them by intelligent treatment. Dr. Franklin Miles, the celebrated specialist, has studied nervous diseases over 20 years, and has discovered the only reliable remedy for them. Thousands of voluntary testimonials prove the virtues of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.
